

Planning Analysis Sheet (Design Section)

The design of the Saykan Combat website is based on creating a clear, simple layout suitable for a sports club website. The goal of the design is to provide users with quick access to information about the club, training details as well as images, and contact details. The website uses a consistent header, navigation bar, main content area, and footer across all pages to ensure usability and visual consistency. The pages include: Home, About, Gallery & Contact. The site is designed as a static website using HTML and CSS, as no dynamic content or database functionality is required.
